Berlin, 16th of May 2020 – We are delighted to announce, that the Japanese manufacturer ZOOM CORPORATION has granted Sound Service the exclusive UK distribution rights for all products within the Zoom brand <https://www.zoom.co.jp/>

This means that effective since 11th of May 2020 we are the official exclusive distributor and the sole contact for all ZOOM-related issues.

"We are looking forward to this new venture and are very confident that after the good experiences we have had managing the sales takeover of the ESP / LTD brand in the UK, we will be able to fully satisfy the expectations of the dealers. Therefore, we intend to set up an independent organisation in England in the course of this year," says Ron Deckers, Pan European Sales Director.

Thanks to excellent stocking, modern logistics and a well-trained international sales and service team as well as its central location in the heart of Europe, Sound Service offers its business partners optimal support for all distribution brands and

About Sound Service European Music Distribution

About Zoom Corporation

Founded in 1983 and based in Tokyo, Japan, the Zoom Corporation has been equipping creators around the world with innovative yet affordable audio equipment. No matter if you're a classically-trained pianist or a run-and-gun filmmaker, our wide array of recording devices, multi-effects processors, effects pedals, drum machines and samplers is sure to have something that fits your gear bag and your budget.

FIELD RECORDERS

Thanks to the Zoom F-series, professional field recording has never been so accessible. With the key features veteran sound designers demand and some new cutting-edge tech found only at Zoom, creators of all levels can now propel their film's sound to new heights.

HANDY RECORDERS

Zoom your audio anywhere with our H-series line of handy audio recorders. Whether it's film, music, broadcast or live stream, there's a handy recorder designed with the right mic capsules and recording capabilities you need to chase your sound.

VIDEO RECORDERS

In today's digital world, video plays an important role in helping musicians reach a wider fan base. But musicians can't rely on just any camera. They need one that records incredible audio. Zoom's Q-series video recorders are made for serious artists who demand nothing but the clearest, richest sound for their musical performances, rehearsals and live streams.

DIGITAL MIXERS

Mix, monitor, record and live stream complex productions with a single piece of gear. Available with either 12 or 20 inputs, our L-series mixers give you complete control over your musical productions in a way that previously took a full rack of gear. These boards do it all!

GUITAR PEDALS

As makers of some of the best-selling multi-effects pedals ever, we at Zoom know that great music requires precision, passion and nuance. That's why our collection of guitar, acoustic, bass and multistomp pedals offer a variety of effects, compressors, emulations and more that allow you to enhance and reimagine every note.
